PRODUCT KEY FACTS

What is this product?

The Fund is a collective investment scheme (investment company), domiciled in Ireland and regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland.

Objective and Investment Strategy

To seek to achieve a total return through a combination of income and capital growth.

The Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by investing in a diversified portfolio of predominantly (i.e. not less than 70% of its net asset value) equities of issuers worldwide.

The Fund investments shall include securities of issuers in emerging markets or of issuers established outside of emerging markets, which have a predominant proportion of their assets or business operations in emerging markets and which are listed, traded or dealt in on a regulated market worldwide.

The Investment Manager will not concentrate investments on any one industry or sector.

The equity and equity-related securities in which the Fund may invest include ordinary shares or common stock, preferred stock, American Depositary Receipts, Global Depositary Receipts, preference shares, rights issues and warrants.

The Fund will not invest more than 10% of its net assets in securities issued by or guaranteed by any single country (including its government, a public or local authority of that country) with a credit rating below investment grade or with no credit rating being assigned by an internationally recognized credit agency (i.e. Standard & Poor's or Moody's).

The Fund may employ investment techniques and instruments which may be exchange-traded or over-the-counter derivatives, such as futures (such as currency futures contracts) for investment and efficient portfolio management purposes. Futures contracts (including currency futures, equity futures and index futures (for example, indices of equities from global issuers in regulated markets)) may be used to hedge against market risk or gain exposure to an underlying market. The Fund may also use spot foreign exchange contracts for efficient portfolio management purposes.

The Fund may invest in and have direct access to certain eligible China A Shares listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange and Shenzhen Stock Exchange via the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect (collectively, the "Stock Connects"). Exposure to China A Shares through the Stock Connects will not be more than 10% of the Fund's net asset value.

The Fund may invest up to 10 per cent of its net asset value in open ended collective investment schemes (including exchange traded funds) whose objective is to invest in any of the foregoing and provide the Fund with indirect exposure to global equities.

As part of the Fund's emerging markets exposure it may invest part of its net assets in securities traded on domestic Russian markets and any such investment will only be made in securities that are listed/traded on the RTS stock exchange and MICEX. The extent of the Fund's net assets invested in these securities will not typically be more than 3% higher than Russia's weight in the MSCI All Countries Index. For the avoidance of doubt, this shall mean that if, for example, Russia's weight in the MSCI All Countries Index is 2%, the Fund will not invest more than 5% of its net assets in these securities.

The Fund may invest up to 15 per cent. of its net asset value in real estate investment trusts listed, traded or dealt in on regulated markets worldwide.

The Fund may also hold and invest cash in deposits, treasury bills, short-term securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit and money market funds which are undertaking for collective investment in transferable securities and which in turn provide exposure to money market instruments. Any such cash or cash equivalents will not be held for speculative purposes but will be ancillary to the primary investment strategy of the Fund. The treasury bills, short-term securities and debt securities listed above will be listed or traded on a regulated market.

All exposure arising through the investment in financial derivative instruments will be covered by the underlying assets of the Fund. The Fund will use the commitment approach methodology to accurately measure, monitor and manage the “leverage” effect produced by the use of financial derivative instruments and for the calculation of its global exposure. The Fund must ensure that its global exposure does not exceed its total net asset value and the Fund may not therefore be leveraged in excess of 100% of its net asset value. In using the commitment approach for the calculation of global exposure, the Fund will convert each derivative position into the market value of an equivalent position in the underlying asset of that derivative.

The Fund may use derivatives to acquire synthetic long and synthetic short positions over a variety of time periods (depending on current market conditions and the Investment Manager’s view relative to those conditions) in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank of Ireland. The proportion of long to short exposure in the Fund will depend on the market conditions at any given time. On this basis the expected range for the long and short positions the Fund may take is between 0% to 10% short exposures in combination with 0% to 10% long exposures. This range for derivatives use is not a limit and the exposures can exceed the range in certain circumstances. However, this will remain within the constraints under the commitment approach above. The use of derivatives by the Fund to create synthetic short positions will not result in the Fund having a net short position on an overall basis.

The Fund will not enter into securities lending transaction and repurchase / reverse repurchase agreement transactions.

The Fund is denominated in USD but will hold assets denominated in other currencies.

Investment Approach

The Fund is actively managed, which means the Investment Manager has freedom to select the investments in order to seek to achieve the investment objective of the Fund. In seeking to achieve its investment objective, the Fund aims to deliver a total return, net of fees, greater than that of the MSCI ACWI (the “Index”) with net dividends re-invested over rolling 3 year periods.

The Index represents the performance of the large and mid-cap segments of developed markets globally. The Fund is managed by the Investment Manager adopting a “systematic” investment process, which uses sophisticated computer models to analyse large volumes of data to select investments. This will focus on developing a stock portfolio that is expected to deliver total returns while satisfying the income requirements of investors. In this regard, the Investment Manager’s stock selection process looks for a stock portfolio that can offer both attractive dividends as well as capital growth. Stocks are assessed in terms of the attractiveness of their valuation, quality, price trends, stable growth prospects, sentiment and company management. In addition, the Investment Manager takes other criteria such as expected risk, trading costs and liquidity into consideration when constructing the Fund’s portfolio.

The Index is a representation of the markets in which the Fund primarily invests. Although a large proportion of the Fund’s investments may be components of the Index, the Investment Manager does not seek to replicate the performance of the Index; it is seeking to deliver a return, net of fees, greater than the Index. In particular, the Fund may invest in companies which are not included in the Index and the stock selection and portfolio construction process, as set out above, mean that the number of holdings and weightings of the companies, industries, sectors and countries of the holdings of the Fund may diverge materially from the Index. Therefore, the risk and return profile of the Fund will likely be significantly different to that of the Index. As set out above, the portfolio construction of the Fund involves considering risk, trading costs and liquidity. As part of this portfolio construction process, various controls are in place aiming to ensure risks are not concentrated in any one company, industry, sector or country.

Use of derivatives / investment in derivatives

The Fund’s net derivative exposure may be up to 50% of the Fund’s net asset value.

What are the key risks?

Investment involves risks. Please refer to the Hong Kong Offering Document for details including the risk factors.

1. Investment risk

- The rate of the monthly distribution is neither fixed nor guaranteed and is determined at the discretion of the Directors.

- There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.
- It cannot be guaranteed that the performance of the Fund will generate a return. The price of the shares may fluctuate and there may be circumstances where no return is generated and the amount invested is lost.

2. Equity risk

- The value of the Fund that invests in equity and equity-related securities will be affected by economic, political, market, and issuer specific changes. Such changes may adversely affect securities and the market value of the equity securities that it invests in may go down and the relevant Fund may suffer losses.

3. Volatility risk

- Price of securities in which the Fund will invest may be volatile. During periods of uncertain market conditions, the combination of price volatility and illiquidity in the market may affect the Fund's ability to acquire or dispose of securities at the price and time it wishes to do so, and consequently may have an adverse impact on the investment performance of the Fund.

4. Emerging market risk

- The Fund may invest in developing markets which may be illiquid and subject to higher price and levels of volatility than investments in more developed economies. Therefore, investments in markets of a developing nature may cause the Fund to suffer losses.
- The legal infrastructure and accounting, auditing and reporting standards in emerging markets may not provide the same degree of shareholder protection or information to investors as would generally apply internationally
- The value of the assets of the Fund may be adversely affected by the uncertainties, such as political developments, changes in government policies, taxation and currency repatriation and restrictions on foreign investment. This may lead to a delay in payment of redemptions to shareholders when the Fund encounters repatriation restrictions. Any fluctuation in currency and interest rate, inflation and changes in relation to currency convertibility in the emerging markets that the Fund invests in may cause an adverse impact on the net asset value of the Fund.

5. Derivatives risk

- The Fund may enter into transactions in over-the-counter markets that expose it to the credit risk of its counterparties. In the event of the bankruptcy or insolvency of a counterparty, the Fund could experience delays in liquidating the position and may incur significant losses.
- In an adverse situation, the use of financial derivative instruments for hedging and efficient portfolio management may become ineffective and as a result, the Fund may suffer significant losses.

6. Currency risk

- The Fund will hold non-USD denominated securities which is different from the base currency of the Fund (i.e. USD) and may cause the value of the Fund's investments to fluctuate with changes in exchange rates. The value of a shareholder's investment may be affected unfavourably by fluctuations in the rates of exchange of the different currencies.

7. Risk relating to payment of dividends effectively out of capital

- The Directors may, at their discretion, pay dividend out of gross income while all or part of the fees and expenses of the Fund are charged to/paid out of the capital of the Fund, resulting in an increase in distributable income for the payment of dividends by the Fund and therefore, the Fund may effectively pay dividends out of capital. Payments of dividends effectively out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any distributions involving payment of dividends effectively out of capital may result in an immediate reduction in the net asset value per share of the Fund.

PRODUCT KEY FACTS

How has the fund performed?

- Past performance information is not indicative of future performance. Investors may not get back the full amount invested.
- The computation basis of the performance is based on the calendar year end, NAV-to-NAV, with dividend reinvested.
- These figures show by how much class L (USD) Income increased or decreased in value during the calendar year being shown. Performance data has been calculated in USD including ongoing charges and excluding subscription fee and redemption fee you might have to pay.
- Where no past performance is shown there was insufficient data available in that year to provide performance.
- The benchmark of the Fund is MSCI ACWI.
- Fund launch date: 2015
- Class L (USD) Income launch date: 2015
- The Investment Manager views class L (USD) Income being the most appropriate representative share class as this is the share class which is offered to the public in Hong Kong with the longest track record.
